Kestrel Cycles - Warranty Guide

Fictional company created for a portfolio demonstration.

Frame warranty

Kestrel-branded aluminium frames carry a 5-year warranty against manufacturing defects. Carbon frames carry a 3-year warranty.

The warranty covers the original owner only and requires proof of purchase.

Components and e-bike systems

Components such as gears, brakes and wheels are covered by their manufacturer's warranty, usually 2 years.

E-bike motors and batteries are covered for 2 years. Batteries are considered faulty if they hold less than 60% of their original capacity within that time.

What the warranty does not cover

Normal wear and tear on tyres, chains, cassettes, brake pads and cables is not covered.

Damage from crashes, misuse, or modifications not carried out by an approved workshop is not covered.

Making a claim

Bring the bike to any Kestrel Cycles store or email warranty@kestrelcycles.example with photos of the problem and your order number. We aim to give a decision within 10 working days.